

“The children of our county deserve a place to stretch their imaginations and develop their creative minds. KidSTREAM will be the hallmark institute that unlocks children’s potential and sparks a love of learning through the transformative power of play. I’m thrilled to be a part of this great group of educators and caring community members who are bringing a children’s museum to Ventura County.”

Holly Cole, Director
Leader, Nonprofit Volunteer, Parent, Youth Advocate

- Master of Public Policy and Administration, California Lutheran University
- Bachelor of Science in business management, California Lutheran University
- Board Member, TOLD Foundation
- Participates on the scholarship committee for TEACH Fund, which supports advanced education for foster youth

Holly has a passion for the nonprofit world and believes that each of us can do our part, big or small, to make a positive impact for others. She brings more than 30 years’ experience in corporate business to our board. Having held a variety of leadership positions in customer service, sales, human resources, public affairs and philanthropy she will be a great asset. Holly lives in Camarillo with her husband. They have two grown daughters and one grandson.

