

“Just as California State University, Channel Islands, presents endless possibilities for young adults, businesses and the community, kidSTREAM brings us the opportunity to create an exciting destination-worthy children’s museum to this region. Ventura County alone has 10 cities beaming with young families that will welcome, utilize and support a children’s museum. My vision for kidSTREAM is to create fervent and solid relationships with partners throughout the region and create a children’s museum that will become a proud resource for us all.”
